STATEMENT

8

9 This joint resolution designates April 9th of each year as Dr.
10 James Still Day in New Jersey. Dr. James Still overcame prejudice
11 and poverty through hard work and determination to become a 12 successful, self-educated homeopathic healer.

13 Dr. James Still was born into poverty on April 9, 1812, to former 14 slaves Levin and Charity Still. Dr. Still was passionate about the 15 medical field from a young age, however, due to his racial and 16 financial background, he was unable to attend medical school. Despite 17 his inability to attend medical school, Dr. Still continued to acquire 18 medical knowledge through self-education. Dr. Still found success
19 within the medical field when he developed a cough balm from plants
20 and herbs. This innovative balm brought Dr. Still recognition and 21 wealth. With this newly acquired wealth, Dr. Still purchased a home
22 and created a medical office in Medford, New Jersey. Dr. Still’s
23 knowledge of plants and medicine allowed him to treat patients
24 throughout the region. Despite his success within the medical field, 25 Dr. Still’s medical credentials were challenged by many local doctors.
26 In response to these challenges, Dr. Still began treating his patients
27 free of charge. Dr. Still continued to treat patients with homeopathic 28 healing until his death in 1882.

29 To honor and preserve the legacy of Dr. James Still, his medical 30 office was purchased by the State of New Jersey in 2005. In 2013, the 31 property and nearby grounds became the Dr. James Still Historic 32 Office Site and Education Center which teaches and preserves the 33 legacy of Dr. James Still. Dr. Still’s dedication to the medical field 34 and successful life should be remembered and celebrated among the 35 citizens of New Jersey.
